J = Jasmine, L = Liam

J Hi, Liam! It's Jasmine.

L Hi, Jasmine! How are you?

J I'm great. I'm calling from the L Wow! Where are you going?

J Brazil. My parents have decided to the summer holidays abroad. We're going to travel around South for a few weeks.

L Amazing!

J I know! I'm sure we'll have so much fun. What are your plans for the?

L I don't know yet. My dad wants to take some time out in August, but he's really busy at work now doing an important project. Mum says he'll earn a lot of so we can have a great holiday soon.

J That sounds great!

L I know, but I don't want to waste time before we go anywhere. I definitely don't want to just sit and watch TV.

J You could do some extra homework. Why don't you take up a sport at the local club? They're offering and volleyball.

L I didn't know about that! I've always wanted to learn to play tennis. Great idea! Thanks.

J No problem! I'll speak to you when I get back from L Sure – enjoy yourself in Brazil. Send me some photos.

J I will. Take care.

L Bye!

LISTEN 2 (TRACK 2.24)

T = Teacher, S = Scarlett, L = Lena, A = Asim

T Now let's move on to our topic about change-makers.

Scarlett, which real hero did you choose to research?

S I chose a man called Robert Lee. He's such a and person! He had a great idea to donate unwanted food from New York to homeless people. He found organised and honest volunteers to collect and deliver the food. It's a simple idea, but one that helps people in need, and it also stops restaurants from wasting food. I really admire him. If more people were like Robert, the world would be a better

T That's lovely. Lena, which real hero do you admire?

L My hero is Edwin Sabuhoro from Rwanda. He started working to protect mountain He's brave and He helped to catch people selling baby gorillas and put them in prison. But he is also very fair and sympathetic. He saw that if those people had jobs, they wouldn't need to sell baby gorillas. He did something incredibly He gave them all his money so they could start farming. Now he has an eco-tour company which gives work to people and protects the

T Wow! Anyone else? Um, Asim?

A If I had to choose just one person, it'd be a grandmother called Marilyn Price. She's a kind and woman who works with city children and takes them on bike trips to the countryside. This gives the children an opportunity to different places, make new friends, and become healthier and more confident. She also organizes programmes teaching children how to make and bikes. There are programmes in the USA,, Israel and Africa.

T Thanks everyone! Those are some great change-makers! If I were you, I'd start thinking of other ideas to make the world a better place.

LISTEN 3 (TRACK 2.07)

Teenagers are increasingly obsessed with their bodies these days. Teenagers become more conscious (1).....their appearance due to seeing unrealistic images of other people in the media. They compare themselves to others and believe they are (2).....attractive enough. Body image issues can cause teens to skip meals in (3).....to lose weight. or prevent them from enjoying life (4).....they are unhappy with their appearance. I have some suggestions for(5).....to solve this problem. Teenagers should accept themselves(6).....they are. They should respect their values over their appearance. I also believe (7).....schools and families should encourage teenagers to live healthy lifestyles because they promote positive thinking. By doing so, teenagers will become (8).....confident and have a happy life.
