THE WEEE MAN

The machine we use don't last forever. So what happens when we can't use them any longer? Currently, most of our Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEE) goes straight into (1)_____. However, all this e-waste isn't good for the environment.

Paul Bonomini used waste equipment to make the WEEE man, a 23 ft. high (2) _____ in England, remind us that we must make less waste. How can this sculpture change our (3) _____?

Every one of us should try to make the world a better place. There are a number of things we can do. Firstly, we should try to (4) _____ appliances for as long as possible. We shouldn't throw away old appliances if they are still in good working condition. We can (5) _____ them, sell them, or (6) _____ them. Secondly, we should recycle parts which we can't repair. For example, there are companies that recycle old cell phones. Some companies will buy your old model to use for spare parts.

There are so many things we can do. So next time you want to (7) _____ or replace an old piece of equipment think of the WEEE man and its message: "We must not (8) _____ the environment. Our planet is our responsibility."

1. "WEEE" is a short word of "Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment". _____
2. WEEE reminds us that we must keep the environment unpolluted. _____
